EMI SURVEYS HITS RECORD HIGH SALES

Hyde Park, USA: EMI Surveys, an online market research service company specializing in online sample, hits record high sales. During the month of May, EMI surpassed a 10 year record of highest sales in one month.

Michael Holmes, President of EMI Surveys, attributes the success to staying focused on a common goal... keeping our clients happy, “We’ve stayed on top of our business and continuously work hard to give our clients what they ask for... quality online research solutions.” Holmes also says, “We knew we were coming out of a dry spell at the end of April and could feel the needs coming from our clients... what’s even better is we feel it’s time to hire again.” Holmes goes on to say, “We are hiring and looking for talented individuals who have the drive it takes to compete for business in a global online environment. “

Holmes founded EMI Surveys in 1999. The company is the preferred sample provider to market research professionals who perform online quantitative and qualitative research. EMI’s clients include local, national and global Top 50 Market Research firms.
